WE have considerably enlarged THE DAILY UNIO STATESMAN, and now print it on plain and handsome _ew type, and clear white paper. In Politics, Тив Оню Sтатинман is, in Warns in Peace, for the Country, for the Constitution, and for a Union of equal States, with equal privileges, and with equal and exact justice to all its citizens. We are for the Old Flag, with not a Star or Stripe crased, and the Old Union as far as it is possible to restore it. and for the existing Constitution, in its spirit, letter

Upon the coming events of the year, rest the hopes of the People and Government. We are in the midst of a bloody and protracted civil war. Its duration and close depend upon a wiser, tracr and more patriotic Policy than we have seen during the present Administration. We owe it to the memory of our Fathers, and to the hopes of our Children, to the future of our Country, and to the best interests of mankind, to change a Policy which is drifting us farther and farther from the landmarks of our patriotic sires.

THE STATESMAN will do all it can to aid in bringing about this change; and hence, the Publishers in vite support and encouragement from all those who while wishing for a good NEWSPAPER, also wish to have a sound Constitutional journal. We publish a paper in which we seek to give the TRUTH. Our Commercial Reports, our Markets, our Political and General News, are carefully freed from the sensational character, and we seek to make THE STATESMAN trustworthy in every particular. For News, for Instruction, for Good Morals, for Sound Political Sentiments, for a Steady Defense of American Institutions, Take, Read and help to Circulate, THE OHIO STATESMAN. THE WEEKLY OHIO STATESMAN is one of the largest, cheapest, and best printed Papers in the West. Each number contains a complete resume of all the Military and Political news of the week; the latest telegraphic and market reports; a carefully prepared collection of literary reading for the home and family; and an abundance of paragraphs upon every topic of interest or importance. The wide circulation already obtained by this paper, is an evidence of its popularity, and of its being adapted to the wants of the people.

THE READERS AND FRIENDS HOT AIR FURNACES.

PETER MARTIN'S Patent Improved Hot Air Furnaces.

For Public and Private Use.

For Wood or Coal.

THE ATTENTION OF THE PUBLIC I is called to the above Furnaces, as they combine ventilating with heating qualities.

The inventor has, after years of experiments, succeeded in perfecting what he claims to be the best Furnace now in use. Among its many advantages over the ordinary Furnaces, are:

The small amount of fuel required to keep it in operation.

The small amount of fuel required to keep it in operation.

Respiration of the rooms constantly supplied with pure, fresh sir, drawn from Nature's inexhaustible stock out of doors.

Large Air Chambers, avoiding the confinement of heat in heated walls and hot metal chambers. Improved Water Chambers, which keep up a steady supply of moisture, which overcomes the great objection to ordinary Hot Air Furnaces.

The castings are heavy, and strongly boiled together, guaranteeing durability under any degree of heat.

Particular attention is called to the SELF-REGU-

BEST EVER MADE. Every Furnace warranted to give entire sat-

REFERENCES: By permission I refer to the following parties, where the Furnaces are in operation: where the Furnaces are in operation:

Cincinnati, March 17, 1863.

Mr. P. Martin, of this city, has constructed a "Hot Air Furnace" in the Second Reformed Church (corner Findlay and Baymiller streets), which has thus far given entire satisfaction. For efficiency in warming, purity of air, and economy of fuel, we can speak of it in most favorable terms. Its permanence and durability also seem to promise well. The plan of draught and ventillation is good.

From our experience, we can recommend Mr. Martin as an adept in the art of warming buildings, and as quite competent to give satisfaction in the construction of Furnaces wherever practicable.

(From The Cleveland Herald.) Religious Newspapers. Religious newspapers, as a means of cul-tivating a sound morality, and as media for news not of a secular character, are highly express. But there is a class of so-called religious newspapers which assume the name under the same motive that induces some people to join a church-for the sake of respectability and to acquire influence. The class of religious papers we speak of print a folio sheet—one side "religious," set in large "leaded" typography; the other side "secular," in small type, set solid. The great mass of the advertisements appear on the "religious" half, and as a consequence the religious part of the paper can easily be read and digested before church of a Sunday morning, leaving the "secular," larger half, for the long day's consumption. Newspaper readers who would not be seen carrying an ordinary daily newspaper into their house on a Sunday morning in their pocket, will, with great display, swing their double-ender religious paper in their hands when homeward bound on a Saturday evening. And it should be remarked that these religious (?) papers—no matter what is the ostensible publishing day—so time their issue from the press as to reach the great mass of readers, within railroad range, for Sunday use. The consequence is, the subscribers to such religious paper devour on the first day of the week more secular news matter than does the man who, on a Sunday morning's visit to the Post office or News Dealer, loads his pockets with the daily papers. About the meanest kind of hypocrisy is this cheating in Sunday reading, and the deepest shade resting upon the religion of our people is the fact that while real religious newspapers drag along from sickly support, these bogus religious prints have enormous circulation. The veil of deception is about as gauzy as the backing on a dice-board, that reads, "History of Eng-

The Round Table dissects a late number of The Independent; which, as many of our readers know, is one of these double-barreled religio-secular prints, having in each weekly issue about the proportion of reli-gion as the girl's letter—three pages of gossip, concluding with the shortest verse in the Bible—"Jesus wept." The Round Table does up The Independent thus: Whole number of columns.

Whole number of columns
Columns of advertisements
Editorial religious articles
Columns of war, politics, and finance.
Columns of Mr. Heecher's sermon
Columns of market reports
Columns of religious news.
Number of religious articles The Round Table adds:

"This is not all. We took up this copy of The Independent expecting to find its mass of shameless advertisements somewhat abated. But the vilest of the vile advertisements, which we know secular papers to have refused over and over again, defile its pages. Here the young woman can learn to ward off the troubles of misconduct, and the young man how to counteract the effects of dissipation. And this almost side by side with Mr. Beecher's sermons! On one page a poem entitled "The Sword of Christ," and near by the most in-famous cards of wicked poisonmakers! Is there no wrong here? Can a man serve two Leaguers throughout the country. It is their "battle cry" for carrying elections by fraud, and in secret conspiracies against Democrats. By such "catch words" they have made some honest people believe they were sincere in their devotion to the country, when in fact they have proved to be only a secret conclave to perpetuate in power a rotten, corrupt Administration, and to proscribe all who will not subscribe to the infallibility of "capering Old Abe." The time has come, however, when these blatant demagogues can have an opportu-nity to "rally around the flag" in a sense that really means something. Let this oath bound organization of "exclusives" hasten to the front, the opportunity is ample, and their Chief is supposed to be in danger. They are bound by their solemn orgies to stand by each other in opposing Democrats at home, now let them "right flank" by Lodge, and "march" against the rebels.— But these mock patriots will do no such thing. They will cowardly hide behind their lodge emblems, and sneak away un-der cover of their dark lanterns, and brader cover of their dark lanterns, and brazenly denounce Democrats for not going to fight the battles they have invited, while they remain at home to enjoy their fat offices, and line their pockets from the earnings of an over-taxed people.

"Rally around the flag, boys." Go, Leaguers, like men into the ranks, and show that you are sincere in your pretensions. If you believe in the Proclamations and the rotten borough system, and all the other new tangled theories upon which the war is prosecuted, volunteer by organizations and tune up your battle songs on the field.

In nearly every Republican paper we take up, these catch words are displayed to drum up the faithful to the lodge room, and humbug the people with the idea of "exclusive loyalty." The flag is safe enough here—the place to rally around it is at the post of danger. Onward, Leaguery, to the rescue, or prove yourselves in the classic language of Healy, "a hand of sneaks."—Albany Arouse Integra normals.
